One fine, sunny morning, Muhammad, Lawe and Gabriel were anonymously invited on a NASA test run. As they got ready, Lawe hesitated, however Gabe and Muhammad had assured him that everything would be alright. As they waited for Lawe to get ready, Gabriel had shown Muhammad a rocket launch in Australia. Lawe was being a coward Muhammad was excited and Gabe was just plain bored. As they arrived, Lawe wanted to head back home, however, Muhammad and Gabriel just ignored him. "Hey Lawe, if you don't want to come, stay at home and don't become world famous!" shouted Muhammad, due to that, Lawe silently obeyed.

While the crew boarded the rocket, they waved their potential final goodbyes to the onlookers below. As countdown numbers faintly echoed through the chambers of the rocket, "10...9...8..." The group checked all equipment and everything else. On departure, Lawe cried because he did not want to go at all! As they ascended, the people below took photos which were quite blurred because of the speed of the rocket! Someone even said that; "It's as fast as

Lightning McQueen!!Gabe squeezed his big forehead against the bitterly cold glass.He saw:mesmerising nebulas,black holes with golden rings around it and the ISS(aka:The International Space Station).

Lawe saw the black holes and unsteadily asked; “Will those actually eat us ?????”

Muhammad gently nodded. “Yes but they don’t eat—but don’t worry, the ship is programmed to steer clear from them.”

“BEST DAY EVER!!!”Muttered Gaberiel,it sure was!

After many hours (Which felt like an eternity),the spacecraft's alarm started blaring in a deafening way. “What's happening ?!?!” shrieked lawe.As he said that the oxygen levels plummeted dangerously,this caused lawe to get even MORE afraid!

“Gabe,check the control room, I’ll check the oxygen levels!”

“Alright!” said gabe and sped off.while Lawe continued wailing Like a baby,Muhammad was searching for the oxygen tank room,time was running out!Would they survive the petrifying trauma??As Muhammad entered the oxygen room,he saw space debri stuck in the main oxygen supply! “Gabriell!”shouted Muhammad. less then a second later, Gabriel entered the room and questioned

“Have you found the problem??” Muhammad nodded eagerly and pointed out the scrap in the room.

As he did, Gaberiel’s face turned as pale as the Moon! “Are you sure we can do this? Because look at how heavy they are, how are we supposed to get them out?”

“We just pick them up and throw them off the ship, Easy, right?” asked Muhammad in a quite unsure tone.

However, that’s exactly what happened, the oxygen levels came back to normal, the alarms stopped and Lawe continued crying. As they descended back to their home planet, lawe had finally come back to his senses! As soon as they landed Lawe still was whimpering in fear! The very second they exited, they were swarmed by a hoard of interveiwers. when lawe had to speak, he wailed “I WANT MY MUMMY!!!”

As they reached home Lawe screamed “I’m suing NASA!!!!”
