

Space story

Sometime in July, there was a group of adults: Jax's (20) Lola (21) Isabella (20) and Charlie (21), they went to Saturn because they won a competition. Charlie knew all about space and he was brave. Because Isabella was the youngest she was a bit worried. They were getting ready to go to the moon.

They heard the echoes of the countdown. It started at 10 then it went down to 0. After that they set Blast echoed. Isabella spoke straight after the echo. "I am nervous and I am not comfortable with heights". Then Jax said "don't worry we will all take care of you". As they flew, Charlie looked at Isabella then asked "how are you feeling"? If you have a problem, tell me.

After a while, an asteroid hit the left side of the rocket and it broke the rocket's window and everyone felt very alarmed. Then something worse happened! After 10 seconds, the rocket lost control and it spun through space. "How can we stop this rocket?" ask Lola. Jax answered "we should look for a bright red button which can send a message to the Nasa office" will they ever find the button?

Then they wanted to get out of the rocket but they couldn't get out because only the Nasa team could open the door.

Jax was brave enough to fix the left the because the Nasa team told Jax what to do,then he followed what the Nasa team said “ get dressed out of your Pj's and tie yourself with a rope then ak one of your friend to grip on the rope and you won't get lost in space”. He felt a bit worried because the black hole because he could go near it and he Took 3 deep breaths then he went outside.
